Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on April 24, 2006 has been entered.

Status of Application

2. Claims 1-7 are pending; claim 2 has been amended.

Claim Rejections 35 USC §112

3. Claim 2, as now amended, is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. In claim 2, line 5, the recitation of the connection of the clutch element is confusing in that it is not clear whether or not this connection is a separate connection between the engine and power train from the connection of the CVT and engine as recited in claim 1, lines 11-13; additionally the term "the input shaft of the power train" does not appear to be provided with a clear antecedent basis (note that claim 2 originally recited "the input shaft of the CVT unit" which is provided with a clear antecedent basis in claim 1).

4. As regards claims currently rejected under 35 USC §112, second paragraph, please note that rejections under 35 USC §102 and 103 should not be based upon considerable speculation as to the meaning of the terms employed and assumptions as to the scope of the claims when the claims are not definite. See In re Steele 305 F.2d 859, 862, 134 USPQ 292, 295 (CCPA 1962). When no reasonably definite meaning can be ascribed to certain terms in a claim, the subject matter does not become anticipated or obvious, but rather the claim becomes indefinite. See In re Wilson 424 F.2d 1382, 1385, 165 USPQ 494, 496 (CCPA 1970). As such the currently pending claims may be subject to prior art rejections not set forth herein upon the clarification of the claim language.

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claims 1 and 3-7 are allowed.
6. Claim 2, as best understood, would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Comments

7. Applicant's comments, filed with the amendment (remarks accompanying the amendment after Final Rejection, filed April 24, 2006) have been considered. Applicant has asserted that the amendments to claim 2 should render the rejection moot, and while the amendment renders the previous rejection moot in that the specific recitation which resulted in the rejection is no longer present in the claim language, the amendment has introduced a different clarity issue.
